Goals

To think BIG, do BIG and achieve BIG is the only goal. Heading towards this goal step by step, I met you in this world, which I’m sure is a great thing. I definitely want to gain knowledge, along with it I also want work as a "Pillar" for any project that I take by inventing something that is new, useful and efficient for the world. I think working with you would be a good opportunity to start with it. This goal will lead me to live my life KING SIZE.

Areas of interest

Technically, my interest is towards Database technologies. Having worked on the database projects during my undergraduate studies and professional experience, it has given me fundamental knowledge and idea of how important it is to design something which handles the data. I want to explore more in this field and get real hands-on to play with the database technologies.

Non-technically, I like to explore new places and meet new people and grow my personal network.
